We used to look up at the sky and wonder at our place in the stars. Now we just look down, and worry about our place in the dirt.

Do not go gentle into that good night; Old age should burn and rave at close of day. Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

We've always defined ourselves by the ability to overcome the impossible. And we count these moments. These moments when we dare to aim higher, to break barriers, to reach for the stars, to make the unknown known. We count these moments as our proudest achievements. But we lost all that. Or perhaps we've just forgotten that we are still pioneers. And we've barely begun. And that our greatest accomplishments cannot be behind us, because our destiny lies above us.

Maybe it means something more, something we can't yet understand. Maybe it's some coincidence, some artifact of a higher dimension that we can't consciously perceive. I'm drawn across the universe to someone I haven't seen in a decade, who I know is probably dead. Love is the one thing we're capable of perceiving that transcends dimensions of time and space. Maybe we should trust that, even if we can't understand it. All right Copper. Yes. The slightest possibility of seeing Wolf again excites me. That doesn't mean I'm wrong.
